ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Department of MCA(Engg) is organizing a online "National Conference on Futuristic Paradigms in Computer Engineering & Applications". The Conference deliberations would be on the theme of forthcoming avenues in the field of computational technologies. Perfect platform for the interaction among researchers, academicians, industry experts and research fellows mainly accelerating the scientific discoveries in the field of computer science. Due to Pandemic situation and the changing protocols, the conference will be held in the online mode. Major features of the conference comprehend customary paper presentations & keynote address by well-known speakers focusing on related modern technologies in the areas of the conference. The few accepted & peer reviewed papers will be published in UGC approved Journal.
